C.

THE Express explains why the Board of Commissioners referred to in yesterday morning's HERALD was made up of gentlemen residing in the Much obliged. We see it now. But a city of twenty thousand people three "entirely impartial men" could not be found.

THE San Francisco Bulletin has entered on its twenty-first year and will soon have attained its majority. Last Monday evening the paper appeared as clear and bright as a schoolmarm in vacation. The proprietors have supplied the office with an entire outfit of copper faced type and from the appearance of the paper we should judge it worked remarkably well. The Rulletin is one of the successful newspaper enterprises of the Pacific coast. It is the ablest edited and consequently the most influential newspaper in San Francisco.

THE Evening Express assumes that the HERALD does not understand the difference between subsidizing a railroad and individual subscription to its stock. It is altogether probable that the public does not need to be informed that the list of things the HER-ALD does not understand is something longer than that of things the Express does understand, and we will not discuss the subject further than to say one of the things we do not understand is upon what principle of right a paper that takes its pay in town lots can claim to be working solely for the public good.

THE resolution introduced by else Mr. GRANT's chances for a third | late number of the Rural Press: term are not so bright as his friends have led him to believe:

Resolved, That in the opinion of this House the precedent established by Washington and other Presidents of the United States, in retiring from the Presidential office after their second term, has become by universal concurrence a part of our Republican system of government, and that any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions.

Open the Streets.

The streets from First to Ninth, or the greater portion of them should be opened across San Pedro and Alameda streets. It would be of great advantage to the city and the people, to extend some of the principle streets across the river to the high ground on the East side. The HERALD some months ago urged this important improvement on the Council, but no steps were taken towards carrying it out and we now revert to it again in the hope that it will receive the consideration it deserves. The owners of the property through which these streets must run will be benefited by their opening and the beauty of the city enhanced. At present if one desires to go from Main street to San Pedro or Alameda streets they can only do so by traveling a mile or more out of a direct line. If these streets were opened they would make the South-Eastern portion of the city one of the most beautiful localities within the the hope that it will receive the conmost beautiful localities within the corporate limits. Every foot of the soil is rich and is cultivated with but little irrigation. As sites for garden homes this part of the city would offer extraordinary inducements if the streets were opened.

Secret Political Parties.

Secret political organizations are dangerous to the liberty of the people in which they exist. In a nation truly Republican in sentiment ane principle, they maintain but a momentary existence, and in their decadence usually carry out of the political arena their fosterers and leaders. The people of the United States are too strongly imbued with the spirit of Republicanism to be influenced for any considerable length of time by political parties that work in secret. The sudden downfall of the Know Nothing party affords the strongest proof that "dark lantern" politics cannot thrive in America. The promulgators of the Order of the American Union will doubtless realize this truth before they succeed in obtaining that supremacy to which they aspire. The organization has for its chief object the re-election of President GRANT, and the New York Herald, which publishes the text of its constitution says the President, Post master General JEWELL, ex-speaker BLAINE and other prominent um, naphtha, asphaltum and other lights of the Administration are members of the Order. The invention of the new Order is said to be the work of GRANT and BLAINE. The third term | works of all kinds as may be needed. scheme is to be advanced by an uncompromising social and political war on Roman Catholics. The ritual stipulates that there shall be no further church extension, and every effort is to be made to prevent Catholics from the nomination of GRANT for President and then do all in its power to elect him. We are assured that the officials of the post offices and the custom houses are members of the Order and pledged to its purpose and principles. If we are correctly informed the Order of the American Union contains nothing in the way of originality. It is simply Know Nothingism in disguise. The Roman Catholics and foreign born citizens were the target of the Know Nothings and it seems the Catholics and those who will not recognize the claims of GRANT to a third term, are the especial enemies os this new Administration dark lantern. We do not expect much country. It was for the purpose of from this secret movement; the at-"getting entirely imparttal men." tempt on the part of the President of the United States and those high in we shall never cease to regret that in his Administration to proscribe citizens on account of their religious faith and to create and foster sectarian animosities, will, we believe be at once condemned by all classes and denominations.

A den Dried Apples.

Because, a few years ago, no good peaches and apples were grown in Los Angeles valley, the impression became geueral that a superior article of temperate zone fruit could not be produced here. This once popular error our fruit growers have nearly entirely eradicated. It was to the inferior quality of the trees planted, not the unfavorableness of the climate that should have been ascribed the failure to grow good apples and peaches. The experience of each succeeding year, tends to prove that as fine flavored peaches and apples may be raised in this valley as any place in the world. All that is necessary to secure large and fine flavored fruit is to plant, engraft or bud a superior specie of tree. "Men do not gather figs from thistles" nor will any thinking man expect to pick a delicious pippin or rambo from the boughs of a scrub seedling. We predict that five years hence our market will be supplied with richly flavored apples and peaches, the product of the orchards of this valley. It is probable that the keeping power of our fruit will not equal that of fruit grown in colder latitudes and for this SPRINGER of Illinois passed the lower reason we conclude that the day is not House by a vote of 232 against 18. distant when our export of dried or Seventy-five Republicans voted for otherwise preserved apples and peachthe resolution. But twelve Republi- es will comprise no unimportant porcans recorded their votes in the nega- tion of our trade. We have now a tive, and of this number were PAGE large Alden fruit preserving factory of California, and five colored men. in this city and as an intimation of The vote on this resolution develops a what it is capable of doing with the ood many cowards and hypocrites, or apple, we append the following from

Our readers will perhaps remember that a few weeks since we acknowledged the receipt of some Alden drid fruit, but could at that time only describe the appearance of the fruit having had no opportunity to try its cooking qualities; We have since put it to the test of cooking and eating, and are free to confess that the result of the trial has placed the process higher in our estimation than ever. Especially was this the case with the apples: Under the ordinary process of drying no fruit sacrifices more of its delicacy of flavor than apples. We all know that ordinary duied apples are but a poor substitute for the green fruit; but these were really not distinguished from the green fruit when cooked. They emitted the same fresh, wholesome odor while cooking, and when eaten, as sauce or otherwise they were no way inferior to green apples, either in odor or freshness of flavor, Our readers will perhaps remember that a

"Without Compensation."

EDITOR HERALD: I was reading the excellent message of our worthy Mayor, this morning, and was ready to accord to him the highest credit for the interesting and masterly manner in which he dealt with matters con- yet been arrived at by Engineers. cerning the interests of the city, when, near the close, I was startled by the following re-

"In order that the health of the city may be properly looked after, I would recommend that we follow the system which seems to be common in all large cities, and confide Now this shows the estimate by which our

Mayor regards the medical profession; and Mayor regards the medical profession; and he is not to blame if he has derived that estimate from the puffs and sordid recommendations which have lately appeared in the public prints in regard to Dr Aborn, the "King of Pain," and others, who have allowed their friends to advertise in the papers their unmeritorious exploits in palpable violation of all true ethics. And now, Mr. Editor, I enter my protest against such an unjust imputation, in the name of all those great and philanthropic physicians, who, within the last century, have brought the science of Hygiene to such perfection, and devised sanitary improvements and precautions so efficient, as to raise the average of human life in civilized countries from the ratio of 19 or 20 to nearly 40. There may be physicians in Los Angeles who would accept a position on such a Board "without compensation," and the Mayor's informant may be one of them; but I doubt whether a board composed of such material would reflect honor on the city or render any profit.

Of course such a Board must be established very soon, or the health and lives of the peo-pie residing here will have to atone for the omissions: for as effect follows cause, fatal epiomissions: for as effect follows cause, fatal epidemics will soon make their appearance in our midst to fulfil this inevitable law of Nature, as the causes are already here in reckless profusion, and nothing but a little increase of population or some meteorological condition or concurrence is required to develop the effect with all its terrible consequences. But surely the city of Los Angeles would not select willing men who would undertake such onerous duties "without compensation." The very intimation of such a thing suggests a "ring," or fraud and villainy akin to such as have involved the politics of our country for some time past. It would be far better to have no Board at all than one composed of incompetent men, or such as would prostitute the position to selfish purposes. CITIZEN.

Some time since we published the facts of a somewhat curious case which occurred in this county, in which Mrs. Smith left her husband and went with another man whom we called Jones. Mr. Smith, the husband in the case, informs us that although she virtually ceased to be his wife she did not leave him, remaining as housekeeper, and that Jones, the second party, although boarding with them, did not sleep in the house as there stated. Jones has now left the house entirely, and Mrs. Smith is preparing to leave her husband. Mr. Smith says in making this statement he is actuated only by a desire of having the story put before the people in a truthful manner.

SALE OF OIL PAINTINGS

Works of Art-A Choice Collection-English and American Artistic Gems -Art Gallery in Ducommun Hall-Striking Landscapes-Coast Scenes-Forest Scenery-Auction To-right.

Since the opening of Mr. Levi's collection of artistic gems in Ducommun Hall, hundreds of our people have visited to admire these pictures, and we are confident the hall will be crowded to-night by buyers desirous of gratifying their artistic taste at an auction price. Mr. Levi was here two years ago with a collection of oil paintings, and his successs then was so great that he has returned with a larger and choicer collection. One hundred and eighteen finished paintings, elegantly framed, adorn the walls, and with the aid of a catalogue any visitor can spend a pleasant hour examining them.

A FINE ART GALLERY. The hall when lighted is literally an Academy of Fine Arts, and we are pleased to see it so well appreciated. Yesterday morning the room was well filled at the opening hour and the interest continued unabated until late in the evening.

THE LAST DAY. To-day the pictures; will be on exhibition and Mr. Levi and Mr. Caswell will be on hand to assist in showing visitors these works of art. At seven o'clock this evening the sale begins, and from the interest manifested we begins, and from the interest manifested we are confident every picture will be sold in two or three hours. Various attempts have been made to buy at private sale, but all such offers have been refused, as Mr. Noyes is engaged to sell them all at auction. The collection will be sold without reserve, and there will be no delay, no dwelling, no gags, but straight auction work.

DISTINGUISHED ARTISTS. The list comprises gems from the easels of Searby & Willis, Philadelphia; J. Lewey, London; Hart, New York: Hohenhouseu, Brussels; B. Kreutzer, Dusseldern; Jordan, Munich; A. Meliose, London; G. Forster, Munich; A. Melrose, London; G. Forsier, Rome; Paul Ritter, New York; Ettrick, Edinburgh; O. Houston, Philadelphia; F. Weigenbach, Baltimore; Horsford and C. Morgan, London; A. Doll, Munich; Eglau, Brown, Walthers, Keifer, Reynolds. Dyke, Gifford, Migot, Prince, Moore, St. John, Rondell, Oliveira, Hill, Sands, Morris, Gaylin, Pernine, Hartwick, Gendell, Reblin, Johnson, Perkins, Van Hausen, Gartin, Zang, Berner, Robins. Van Hausen, Gariin, Zang, Berner, Robins, Chapin, Lornans. Birdslow, Sommers, Ste-vens, Van Willis, Venny, Jenkins, Gyer and

GEMS OF THE COLLECTION.

The American scenery is familiar to all, and the artists have depicted many beautiful scenes with striking faithfulness. The forelin scenes have attracted great attention from those acquainted with the localities. Among the gems of this collection we desire Among the gems of this collection we desire especially to draw the attention of critics to No. 2, Scanty Pastures; No. 21, Landscape, with Sheep; No. 38, Lake Geneva; No. 39, Wild Woodland Scene; No. 48, Wyoming Valley; No. 54, On the Wissahickon; No. 57, Yucatan; No. 71, Rocky Mountain Scene; No. 72, Sunset, Bavarian Alps; No. 75. Black Run; No. 86, Summer Storin; No. 88, Morning, Upper Lake of Killarney; No. 100, Delaware Water Gap; No. 105, Harvest Moon on the Avon, England; No. 107, Falls of the Clyde; No. 109, Coming Storm; No. 118, Woodland Scene.

PURCHASE TO-NIGHT. The probability is that the sale will be concluded to-night, making it incumbent on intending purchasers to be present without fail. No offer will be refused, and as Mr. Levi has other business engagements he must hurry this sale to a conclusion. All desiring choice works of art should be on hand at 7 o'clock to-night, as Mr. Noyes commences selling at that hour.

Mr. Kremer, late Secretary, was allowed further time to write up his minutes. On motion o Mr. Long, Superintendent Lucky's salary was reduced to $85 for services as Superintendent and $150 for teaching in the High School, making a total of $235 per

Mr. Kimball's salary was fixed at $120 per month, so long as he had extra work to perform.

The President of the Board was authorized to insure the school buildings, at present uninsured.

A general discussion followed on the neces-sity of new school houses. The Board were unanimously in favor of furnishing abundant school accommodations at the lowest possischool accommodations at the lowest possible cost to the tax payer.

An order for $145 was drawn to pay the balance on a piano bought for the High School, this being a loan from the Library fund, until the course of lectures would realize something.
The Board then adjourned until January

Central Hotel.

Mr. E. E. Fisher has renovated, enlarged and revised the Backman House, baptising it anew as the Central hotel, and proposes hereafter to keep it as well as any hotel on the coast. The new establishment will open in coast. The new establishment will open in all its glory on Christmas day, and from that time out Mr. Fisher will be prepared to compete with any first-class hotel in California. The house is very much enlarged over its old limits, and will be more home-like in every respect. During the past few days a corps of carpenters, painters and fresco artists have been engaged, and the Central hotel now shines resplendent in paint and polish. The house has always been a favorite with the traveling public, and Mr. Fisher will make it doubly popular. Look out for a grand bill on doubly popular. Look out for a grand bill on Christmas. Roast turkey, broiled quail, oys-ters, bear, antelope, venison, wild fowl and all the other delicacies are on the bill of fare.

The City of Paris which, at the beginning of the holiday trade opened out one of the largest stock of supub toys and fancy articles ever imported from Paris, and the sales of the house have been immense. City of Paris toys may be found in every household from San Diego to San Luis Obispo. In order to place these beautiful articles within the reach of all and thus enable parents to present their children with Parislan toys as cheaply as the common article can be had, Messrs, Eugene Meyer & Co. have reduced the price of all toys and fancy articles fifty per cent. It is worth your while, mammas and papas, to drop into the City of Paris and look at these beautiful things. The Novelty Theater, under Signoret's building, had an immense crowd last evening to witness a bill combining talent and novelty. The full troupe appeared, and the performance would have done credit to Arlington or Emmett. To-night there will be an entire change of programme that should attract all amusement lovers. Mr. Benjamin is making great exertions to make this the resort of Los Angeles, and his efforts seem to be appreciated.

[Written for the HERALD.] THE COTTER'S SUNDAY MORNING.

NOT BY BURNS. 'Tis Sabbath morn; no earthly cares Disturb his waking brain, As there he lies above the stairs.

Beneath the counterpane, Listening to the rain As it patters-gently patters On the window pane.

Delightful hour, when one may lay And stretch, and gap, and wink, With nothing much to do or say But just to lay and think,

And gap and stretch and blink, And listen to the pattering rain. And wink, and wink, and wink. But hark! What melody is this Salutes his conscious ear,

To moisten up his morning bliss With something like a tear? 'Tis Bridget's voice of cheer Humming with patriotic zeal Old Erin's "Paddy Dear." And as he listens to her song,

From Java's sea-girt isle along The steep and winding stair. Bereft of every care. Still watching on the window pane The rain drops pattering there.

What fragrance fills the air,

New Court House.

EDITOR HERALD: The tax-payers of this county are much pleased at the stand you have taken against the new job in the new court house proposed. It may be true that the present court house is located in an improper situation, but it is a tolerably comfortable house. It is notorious that it was originally a scandalous job, but it ought to suffice for the present. The house will do well enough for the next ten years, and until the debt and taxes of the county are rendered less burdensome by the increase of the population and wealth of the county. It might be well enough to pass an act of the Legislature authorizing the Supervisors to sell the present court house and build a new one on the county lot, but limiting the expense to the proceeds of the sale of the present house and lot. This might furnish sufficient funds for a new house. This might not furnish sufficient funds for a new house, but would cut off the contemplated job of those who wish to purchase another lot and erect an extravagant building. It is said there are parties who will take the present house and lot and contract to erect a new house for it. Any proposed law ought to prohibit any further debt in relation to the court house.

About School Teachers.

We have recived the following communication with a request to publish: Section 1687 of the Political Code reads as follows:

"In cities having graded schools, beginners shall be taught, for the first two years, by teachers who have had at least four years experience; and such teachers shall rank, in point of salary, with those of the first grade."

Teachers of the first grade in this city receive one hundred dollars per month; and the same salary is paid to two of the teachers of beginners-Mrs. Du Bois and Miss Lucky.

Parties just in from Darwin tell us hard cash is a little scarce out there as yet, but that otherwise everything is as prosperous and encouraging as could be desired. Geo. Quite a severe earthquake shook up the coultry North from Big Pine, perhaps to Benton, between 10 and 11 o'clock,a week ago last night. In Round and Pleasant Valleys, and in the mountains West of Bishop Creek, it was the severest felt since the big one of 72. One chimney in Pleasant Valley, we believe, was shaken down, and people generally hunted for places of safety. On the following Monday there was another slight one. He is working the Buena Vista, and is also running considerable of the Belmont silver ores, mostly from the Whittikind and Belmont mines. Beaudry's furnace is yet idle, but Mr. Belshaw is confident a different state of affairs will obtain up on the Hill in about a month. This is contingent materially on the settlement of that big mining suit, which, so far as he is advised, has not finally been consummated as yet. son, so far as we have heard.
